Topic: How School Fosters Sound Value System Among Students in the Formative Years

The Class Assembly of X E began with the D.A.V. Gaan, which set a serene tone for the morning. The soulful recitation of the Gayatri Mantra, filled the atmosphere with positivity. Kandhavel E warmly welcomed everyone with his speech and gave a brief introduction to the theme of the assembly, preparing the audience for what was to follow.

The theme of the assembly was depicted through different elements such as a skit, a dance, and a poem recitation, each weaving into the larger message of how a sound value system is nurtured and practised. The highlight of the day was the skit titled, “Sound Value System: Morals are Tuned, Not taught.” The skit took the audience into a new dimension - The Core Ethics Grid - a mysterious, maze-like world where values were tested under extreme conditions.

Six players, representing values, were drawn into a world that challenged them and mirrored their shortcomings. The players projected the Disciplinary Domain, Grid of Honesty, Realm of Tolerance, Elegance of Empathy and Pride of Team work. Each player demonstrated how the principles and values determine their choices and response in different circumstances. The journey carried a profound lesson for the spectators.

A graceful dance performance and a heartfelt poem recitation highlighted the essence of fostering a sound value system for leading a morally upright life. The wholesome assembly ensured that it resonated with both the mind and the heart.

The Principal, Mrs. Sujatha M sensitized students about following an upright path and blessed them abundantly for the beautiful portrayed of how School inculcates Values.

The Vote of Thanks was proposed by Joshika with poise.

The Class Assembly of X E stood out not only for its creativity but also for its depth. It left behind a clear message: Values cannot simply be taught as lessons, values are tuned, shaped, and strengthened within us, through challenges, setbacks and choices.
