Topic: How to Identify Linguistic Intelligence among Students

An insightful and vibrant morning assembly centered on the theme “How to Identify Linguistic Intelligence among Students” was conducted by Class VI C on April 17, 2026. The programme was designed to showcase the various ways students express their verbal and creative talents through different mediums of communication.

The assembly followed a well-structured schedule that balanced tradition with creative expression, keeping the audience engaged throughout.

The programme commenced with the Gayatri Mantra, invoking a sense of positivity and divine blessings across the campus. A concise welcome speech set a warm and inviting tone for the guests and students, creating an atmosphere of enthusiasm and attentiveness.

An interactive chat show and a heartfelt poem rendition demonstrated the students' command over dialogue and creative expression. Their confidence, clarity of speech and expressive delivery reflected their strong linguistic abilities.

A highlight of the morning was the ‘Interview with Sudha Murthy’, where students engaged in a scripted interaction to draw inspiration from the renowned author’s journey. The ‘Language of Dance’ segment beautifully illustrated how stories and emotions can be conveyed through movement, expanding the definition of communication and showcasing non-verbal expression.

The assembly concluded with an oration of gratitude, followed by the National Anthem and Shanti Paat, leaving the audience with a message of unity and peace.

The assembly highlighted the importance of linguistic intelligence, encouraging students to explore their potential in speaking, writing, and performance. It also emphasized the role of effective communication in everyday life and academic success. The seamless execution by Class VI C was highly appreciated by the parents and teachers alike, making the assembly both meaningful and memorable.
