Topic: How School Fosters a Sound Value System among Students in the Formative Years

The students of Std. X E presented a profoundly enriching and value-oriented assembly on the theme “How School Fosters a Sound Value System among Students in the Formative Years”. The programme was meticulously curated, reflecting a harmonious blend of intellect, creativity, and moral insight.

The Assembly commenced on an auspicious note with the rendition of the Tamil Thai Vazhthu, followed by the serene chanting of the Gayatri Mantra and the resonant DAV Gaan, creating an atmosphere imbued with cultural reverence and spiritual composure.

The event was gracefully compered by Azeema Sabr, Mehasri, and Srinidhi, whose eloquence and poise ensured a seamless and engaging flow of the programme. The Welcome Address was accorded by Karthi Krishna and Harsshini, who warmly greeted the gathering and introduced the significance of instilling strong values during the formative years of a student’s life.

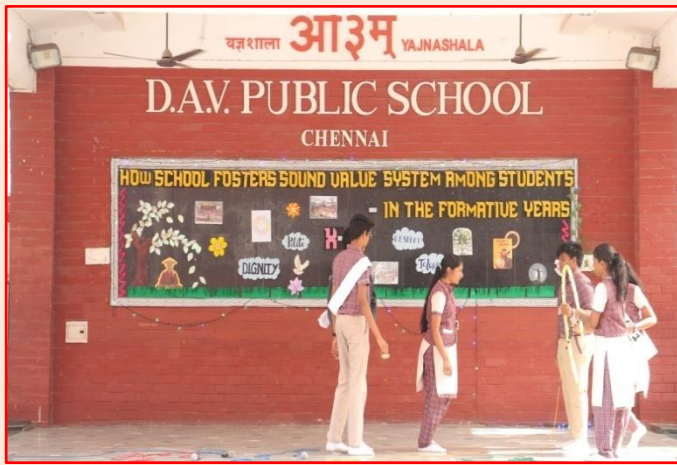

The compelling highlight of the Assembly was the skit titled, The School of Values presented by the students, vividly portrayed the pivotal role of educational institutions in nurturing virtues such as Integrity, Empathy, Discipline, and Responsibility. The skit effectively conveyed how values are not merely taught but lived and experienced within the School Environment. Real life scenarios from daily School interactions and expressive performances by students trained in Martial Arts, home to Tamil Nadu depicted the strong values ingrained in the students.

Adding vibrancy and aesthetic appeal to the programme was the dance performance Twirl, Sparkle and Shine, which beautifully encapsulated the essence of the theme. The choreography symbolized the journey of students as they evolve into responsible individuals, guided by values that illuminate their path.

The Assembly also subtly emphasized key dimensions through which the school fosters a robust value system - experiential learning, role modelling by teachers, and collaborative activities - thereby shaping students into conscientious and ethical citizens.

The programme culminated with a heartfelt Vote of Thanks proposed by Angelina and Abirame, to all those who contributed to the success of the event. The National Anthem and the peaceful recitation of the Shanti Paat, left the audience with a sense of reflection and inspiration.

The assembly stood testament to the school’s unwavering commitment to nurturing not only academically proficient but also morally grounded individuals, thereby fostering a Sound Value System during the most impressionable years of student life.
