REPORT ON NATIONAL LITERACY DAY

Date : 08.09.2026
Host Class : Class X

D.A.V. Public School, Velachery, Chennai, observed National Literacy Day with great enthusiasm to highlight the importance of literacy in empowering individuals and building a progressive society. On this day, various literary and creative competitions were organised for the students of Class X.

The competitions included Poem Writing, Essay Writing, and Poster Making, based on the theme "Literacy for People on the Planet and Prosperity". These activities provided the students with an opportunity to express their ideas creatively and reflect on the significance of literacy in addressing the society, problems in the environment and challenges faced in overall development.

Through their poems, essays, and posters, the students presented thoughtful perspectives on the transformative power of education and literacy. The competitions encouraged critical thinking, communication skills, and social awareness among the participants.

The programme successfully reinforced the message that literacy extends beyond the ability to read and write; it is a powerful tool for creating well informed, highly responsible, and socially empowered individuals. The enthusiastic participation of the students made their performance more meaningful and engaging.

Our school continues to encourage all initiatives that foster students' creativity while sensitising them to significant social and global issues.
